REMOVAL OF VALI DEMANDED

TURKISH SULTAN ASKED TO DISMISS GOVERNOR

The Demand Made by Minister
Leishman—All Is Reported
Quiet at Beirut—Other News
From the Seat of Trouble.

Constantinople, Sept. 10.—Leishman presented a demand to the Turkish government for the dismissal of Husein Pasha, vali of Beirut, on the ground so long as he is retained in office the lives and property of Americans at Beirut are insecure. The Porte has not yet replied to the demand, nor has there been any development in connection with other American claims. The dispatch of Nazim Pasha to Beirut from his post at Damascus is considered a preliminary step toward settlement. Nazim Pasha received an enthusiastic response upon arrival at Beirut, the crowd at the railway station cheering him repeatedly. The town then was perfectly tranquil.

According to latest telegrams, however, consuls continue to transact business with Rashid Pasha, vali of Beirut.

WORD FROM LEISHMAN.
Washington, Sept. 10.—Leishman cabled the state department from Constantinople the French ambassador demanded the removal of the governor of Beirut and other foreign representatives will probably do the same.

Leishman is vigorously urging the sub-line Porte to replace the governor by some one more capable of preserving order and giving more efficient protection to American citizens and interests. In this course he has the approval of the state department. Nothing was said in the cablegram of further disorders at Beirut.

Leishman cabled the state department he had secured the release of Abdul Kader Muthery, a naturalized citizen of the United States, born at Tripoli, Syria, who soon after returning to his native country in 1901, committed an offense for which he was sentenced by the consular court of the United States at Beirut to a term of six months in jail. In the early part of the current year he was arrested at Tripoli and condemned by the local court for the same offense to three and a half years imprisonment. Leishman promptly protested against this violation of rights of American citizens.

FROM COTTON.
The navy department received a cablegram from Cotton dated Beirut yesterday, stating the arrival of the Turkish governor general from Damascus restored confidence. The governor general warned local authorities he will hold them responsible for disturbances. Cotton says the city was quiet Tuesday night and business improving.

DENOUNCE BULGARIANS.
London, Sept. 10.—A dispatch from Athens quotes former Premier Zimis, saying the Greek government was determined to co-operate with the Porte in suppression of the insurrection in Macedonia, though Greece is fully in favor of institution of reforms after order is restored. He denounced the attitude of Bulgarians, saying their aim is to destroy all Greek Christians and prevent Macedonia from becoming independent. Zimis added he believed the powers would never permit a Turco-Bulgarian war and said measures will be adopted by the Porte at a very early date to suppress the revolution.

TURKISH TROOPS ROUTED.
Sofia, Sept. 10.—A private dispatch from Rilo Plain announces an engagement fought Sept. 2, at Yeltepe in Perin, district of Roumelia. Six hundred Turkish troops were completely routed by Macedonian insurgents who, it is said, were everywhere received by the population with enthusiasm.

TELLS OF ATROCITIES.
Sofia, Sept. 10.—A merchant who left Monastir Sept. 8 gives the Associated Press an account of conditions prevailing in the vilayet of Monastir. Throughout the vilayet Turkish soldiers are daily perpetrating almost inconceivable atrocities. They dishonor young girls in the presence of their parents and pillage and murder everywhere. Even funeral processions are halted and corpses stripped of new clothes in which they are dressed according to the Macedonian burial custom. Priests' vestments are seized and soldiers sell all their plunder openly, the officers apparently consenting. The informant of the Associated Press says Christian inhabitants are terror stricken, hourly fearing a general massacre by Mussulmans, whose fanatical hatred of Christians has reached the highest point. Shops are closed in Monastir, business suspended and streets deserted. Even consuls do not dare venture outside their homes. Country people are afraid to come to the city lest they should be robbed and murdered on the way. Europeans desiring to see burned villages are prevented by authorities on various excuses. The British consul wanted to go to Smilovo, but Hilmi Pasha informed him he could not guarantee his safety, as revolutionaries had plotted to kill him.

The informant continues it is estimated there are over 70,000 people in fields without shelter and starving. Hilmi Pasha promised consuls he will assist the destitute people, but he had done nothing, even refusing to allow them to enter town and beg for goods. Turkish functionaries openly scoff at the idea of reforms or European intervention, declaring that should armed European forces come Turks would immediately burn, destroy and massacre, leaving only bare fields, throughout Macedonia.

ASSIST MACEDONIANS

Company of Armed Men Ready to Leave Chicago for Scene of Insurrection.

Sofia, Sept. 10.—Continuous reports of wholesale massacre of Bulgarians and destruction of Bulgarian villages in Macedonia, resulted in notification of representatives of the powers by Premier Petroff that unless Turkey is restrained Bulgaria will be forced to depart from the present attitude of neutrality.

The great forest of Pirin is burning, having been fired in four places by Turks. From various points come reports of fighting, in which Turks and Bashibazouks lost heavily. Nearly all villages in the district of Veles have been plundered and destroyed.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Through the efforts of the Chicago Macedonian society a company of seventy-five men, fully armed and equipped, will leave this city next Monday for the scene of insurrection in Macedonia. The company has been organized among Macedonians of Chicago and will be led by Boris Stanislaw Tevetkoff, formerly a lieutenant in the Bulgarian army. The company will go to New York and there join a regiment, which is said to be forming to assist insurgent forces now operating in the field.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Forty men were hemmed in by flames and threatened with death by fire which originated from an explosion of a gasoline engine in the second story of Bradley Barry & Co.'s carriage and wagon works here to day.

The last of the employees had barely groped their way out of the burning building when the roof fell with a crash. One man, David Bergquist, was severely cut and bruised from jumping out of a second story window. Loss $30,000.

DECLARE FOR EIGHT HOURS.
Leicester, England, Sept. 10.—The trades union congress at its session to day adopted by a large majority a resolution declaring, "The time has arrived when the hours of labor should be limited to eight per day in all trades and occupations of the United Kingdom and that this be made a test question at the next parliamentary election and instruct the parliamentary committee to introduce a bill into the house of commons with a view of getting an eight hour day to become a law of the country."

FIRE LOSSES.
Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 10.—Fire to day resulted in the death of a man, injury of eight others and property damage $125,000. Dr. W. H. Smith, of the wholesale drug house of W. H. Smith & Bros., was caught beneath falling walls and smothered before he could be extricated.

RE-ELECTED OFFICERS.
Joliet, Sept. 10.—The Chicago & Joliet Electric railroad to day re-elected all old directors. They were: President, Jeremiah Solvin; vice presidents, H. J. Crowley and C. L. S. Tingley; general counsel, S. W. Pettit. All are of Philadelphia.

GERMAN TRAINING SHIPS.
Berlin, Sept. 10.—The Tagelblatt says the German training ship Melito with 40 men on board left Lisbon to day for Fraeues, Greece, and adds she will go from there to Beirut.

RAILWAY REGULATION.
Washington, Sept. 10.—The interstate commerce commission to day made public statistics covering parts of the general report on state regulation and taxation of railways in the United States in 1902. It shows thirty states exercised control over railways through commissions and says legislative tendency during the past twelve years has been in the direction of more efficient control over rates.

FORGER ARRESTED.
Buffalo, Sept. 10.—John H. Larkin, alias John A. Williams, of Tomah, Wis., who tried to have a forged New York draft for $5,000 cashed at a bank in this city and who is wanted in Denver for alleged forgery and embezzlement, was arrested here to day while endeavoring to cash the draft.

MOTHER JONES' BOAST.
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 10.—"Mother" Jones passed through here enroute from Clinton, Iowa, where she delivered the Labor day address.

"I will come back to Indianapolis some time and organize Mr. D. M. Parry's factory," she said.

LESS THAN A MILLION

ARE NOW ON THE PENSION ROLLS

Annual Report Made by Pension Commissioner Ware—Recommendations Made—Various Other Statistics.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The annual report of Commissioner of Pensions Ware places the total number of pensioners now on the rolls at 936,545, of which 729,356 are soldiers and 207,189 widows and dependents. Ware announces it is not probable the roll will again cross the million line, the high water mark having been reached a year ago. Five pensioners are on the roll on account of the war of revolution; 1,116; war of 1812; 4,734; Indian war; 13,874; Mexican war. The great bulk of the roll is as follows:

Civil war invalids, 703,456; widows, 234,390; Spanish war invalids, 2,383; widows, 3,662.

Regular establishments: Invalids, 9,170; widows, 2,938.

The roll shows a net loss of 2,501 pensioners during the year. Out of a total of 304,809 application on hand during the year 130,109 were admitted and 113,791 rejected. The average annual value of each pension is now $133. The annual value of Spanish war pension rolls is $173,310.

Ware makes the following recommendations: Laws forfeiting pension or right to pension of any man convicted in court of an infamous crime; prohibiting giving to women who marry soldiers after soldiers become old pensioners and a different method of examining applicants for pension, stamping present system as uncertain, expensive unsatisfactory and generative of an enormous amount of political friction. Ware suggests a board constituted of experts under civil service rules which should go from place to place on fixed days, giving examinations and receiving testimony regarding the condition of applicants and making reports thereon.

The bureau has gained upon the current work 100,000 cases during the last two years. An interesting historical analysis of pension figures shows actual total disbursements in pensions on account of all wars, $3,023,623,390. It is estimated $16,000,000 was paid in pensions for disabilities and deaths due to military and naval service in the wars of 1812 and with Mexico and during time of peace prior to the rebellion, making payments of pensions to soldiers and sailors of the war of rebellion and of regular military and naval establishment since the close of war of rebellion and their widows, children and dependent relatives, $2,852,230,400.

The cost of the pension system per capita of population for 1902 was $1.75. The system, according to Ware, was the greatest as a burden to the people in 1892, since which time it has shrunk from $2.24 to $1.22 per $1,000 taxable wealth and in ten years, he says, the burden will cease to be noticed. Ware estimates unpensioned survivors of the civil war, exclusive of deserters, 309,000, and said the unknown army is meeting with disease and misfortune to such an extent it is applying for pensions at the rate of over 14,000 per annum. In ten years, Ware predicts, the unknown army will have ceased to be a factor.

ACCEPT AGREEMENT.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 10.—At a meeting of representative of the National Association of Minor Base Ball Leagues and the National base ball commission to day the national agreement signed by the two major leagues recently and rejected by the minor league clubs, was accepted by the latter organization after changes were made. The draft period of players was changed from Aug. 15 to Sept. 1 and price for class A players fixed at $750. Players originally awarded to major league clubs by the Cincinnati agreement last winter and who continued playing in minor league, were ordered back to major leagues.

HOW TO GET FAT.
Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 10.—Hundreds of Iowa people are said to have been duped by Martin Mason, alias Martin Nashon, who it is alleged in answer to advertisements offering to tell how "to get fat for $5," wrote to his inquirers "get it at the butcher's." The accused is under arrest at Marshalltown, where it is said he had an office, on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.
Springfield, Sept. 10.—The State Historical society to day decided to hold the annual meeting at Bloomington Jan. 28 next. The principal address will be delivered by former Governor Johnson, of St. Louis.

AURORA TRAGEDY.
Aurora, Ill., Sept. 10.—Della Walton attempted to kill her lover, Ernest Berry, this afternoon and then fired a bullet through her brain, dying instantly. Berry refused to marry the girl and meeting him on the street she shot at but did not hit him. Thinking she had killed Berry, she shot herself.

NO ARRESTS MADE

In Connection With the Postal Scandal—Government Is After Stern.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Despite confident expectations of postal authorities, no arrests of those indicted in connection with the postal scandal were reported to day. It is expected announcement of arrest of at least some of the parties will be made to morrow.

The government to day instituted proceedings for the extradition of Leopold J. Stern, Baltimore contractor who disappeared when indicted by the grand jury for conspiracy in a postal contract and was located recently at Toronto. The state department telegraphed the consul at Toronto to request authorities to hold Stern under provision in extradition treaty that a fugitive can be held by either country at the instance of the other for forty days.

INDIANA BANKERS.
South Bend, Ind., Sept. 10.—The Indiana bankers convention was addressed to day by Senator Beveridge and Congressman Fowler. Beveridge said some moderate financial legislation to relieve periodically, existing stringency in the money center may be enacted. It would be simple and not disturb or alarm business interests. No radical legislation was possible at the coming session of congress. Beveridge has just returned from a visit to the president and his assertion with regard to the action of the coming session of congress is given all the more weight.

Fowler gave a good deal of attention to asset currency. He favored departure from old methods, outlining his plan in detail. He favored allowing national banks to put out credit currency upon depositing certain security, also favored depositing all public moneys in banks, they to pay 2 per cent interest and the government to be secured by bank assets.

SHOOTING CONTEST.
Sea Girt, Sept. 10.—In the big shoot to day the Leech cup was won by Corporal Windar, of Ohio, with 94 of a possible 105. Two hundred and sixty-one expert riflemen entered this competition. The distances were 500, 500 and 1,000 yards, seven shots at each distance. This first prize included the Leech cup to be held one year and a gold badge. Windar was a member of the United States team that competed for the Palma trophy at Bisley, England, last July.

There were only two competitors in the veterans' organization team match, open to teams of six members each from any veteran national guard organization of any state. Each man was required to fire ten shots at 200 yards. The prize was a trophy to be held one year. The old guard of Massachusetts secured 230 of a possible 300, old guard, New York, 201. The Manhattan Rifle and Revolver association of New York won the interclub match by 213 of a possible 250.

Company F, Fifth regiment, Maryland, won the tyro company match, 131 out of 150.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.
Tuxedo, Park, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Dr. Edward C. Rushmore, of the Tuxedo club, was fatally injured and Miss Cornelia Herrick, of Southampton, his niece, instantly killed in an automobile accident at Arden to day. The automobile going up a steep incline gave out and the brake would not work. The machine rushed backwards down the hill, going down a 60-foot embankment on the mountain side.

FITZ MATCHED TO FIGHT.
New York, Sept. 10.—Bob Fitzsimmons, ex-champion heavyweight, and Con Coughlan, "Irish Giant," are matched to meet in a 6-round bout at Philadelphia Sept. 25 at catchweights.

SCAFFOLD GAVE WAY.
Duluth, Minn., Sept. 10.—By the giving away of a scaffold sixty feet above ground four men engaged in making repairs in the Peavey concrete elevator were instantly killed this evening and one man seriously injured.

ENDED HIS LIFE.
Duluth, Minn., Sept. 10.—Financial troubles caused the suicide of George Rupprecht, a prominent Duluth lumberman. He pawned his watch and spent the money for laudanum.

ORDERED BACK TO WORK.
Kansas City, Sept. 10.—President Mitchell to night peremptorily ordered striking miners to return to work. He declared they violated agreement by striking and told them no effort will be made to adjust a scale until they returned to work.

WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS.
Boston, Sept. 10.—The National Wholesale Druggists to day adopted a resolution denouncing "cut rate" druggists and urging wholesalers to co-operate in abolishing the feature of trade objected to. The Retail association concurred in the resolution.

WABASH REPORT.
New York, Sept. 10.—The annual report of the Wabash company shows: Gross earnings, $21,740,331; increase, $2,077,335; net earnings, $3,325,101; increase, $112,100. Net surplus for the year, $195,150; decrease, $5,500.

Of thirteen principal clover seed producing states only four, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa, report increased averages.

The number of stock hogs now being fattened is 5.1 per cent less than the number one year ago. Reports as to size and of weight stock hogs indicate condition 55.1, as compared with the seven year average of 94.2.

BANK ROBBERS

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 10.—Bank robbers broke into the bank of Downs & Washington and blew the doors off the safe, which is said to have contained about $5,000. The explosion was so great the safe fell forward on the floor. The robbers were unable to raise it to get at its contents and left without their booty.

REVOKED THEIR CHARTER.
Chicago, Sept. 10.—The executive board of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's union to day revoked the charter of the Butcher Luggers' Local union, an organization of 1,500 men, because the luggers refused last Sunday to load cars to be shipped out Monday for export trade. Union officers ordered the work done Sunday because it was an emergency, but the men refused. Expulsion was the result.

RECLAMATION FUND.
Washington, Sept. 10.—Commissioner Richards, of the general land office, to day issued a statement showing that approximately $3,461,694 was covered into the treasury to the credit of the reclamation fund from sales of public lands and fees and commissions in various irrigation states in 1903. Besides amounts contributed by other states receipts from Nebraska amounted to $118,839; North Dakota, $1,223,844; South Dakota, $230,421.

The largest fleet of United States sailing vessels which hitherto has been employed in the petroleum oil deep sea trade has recently almost completely been driven out of the field by the subsidized French sailing craft.

POSTOFFICE CLERKS.
Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 10.—The Postoffice Clerk's national association to day elected Frank T. Rogers, of Chicago, president. The convention decided upon a plan for the creation of a mortuary benefit fund. It provides for insurance of policies of $500, $1,000 and $2,000.

POLICE AND ARMY

Dispute Concerning the Arrest of Soldier for Killing a Civilian.

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—Wm. Crowley was shot in the groin to day by a soldier at the United States arsenal. He was removed to a hospital and is in a serious condition. A dispute is now on between police and the commandant at the arsenal concerning the arrest of the soldier who did the shooting. It is alleged Crowley and several others were detected stealing copper from the roofs of the barracks; Crowley refused to halt and the soldier shot him. The others escaped. Police demanded the arrest of the soldier, but the commandant refused to surrender the man.

Crowley died at a hospital this evening.

ESSEX CLUB OUTING.
Salem, Mass., Sept. 10.—Senator Hoar and George Von L. Myer, United States ambassador to Italy, were the principal guests to day at the annual summer outing of the Essex club. Senator Hoar discussed "Problems of the Nation." Considering the tariff revision he said it is as necessary as for Massachusetts to revise its statutes, but the time for making those changes is after a presidential election. Discussing the race problem he scouted the proposition to send negroes out of the country and declared:

"We have got this question to meet squarely at home. The negro will stay. European and Asiatic will come. You cannot turn them out and you cannot keep them out."

AMATEUR ATHLETICS

Milwaukee, Sept. 10.—The Milwaukee Athletic club was an easy winner in the national junior championships of the Amateur Athletic club this afternoon, taking five first, three seconds and three thirds, making a total of 37 points. The University of Chicago captured second honors with 22; Central Y. M. C. A., Chicago, third, 20. The Greater New York Irish Athletic association and First regiment, A. A., Chicago, finished with 13 and 12 points respectively. The Montreal association and New York club tied with five points. The Crescent Athletic club of Milwaukee, Company E, First regiment, St. Louis, and Gerry Williamson, unattached, are credited with one point.

Events were run off in a sea of mud and this kept many athletes out of events, thus enabling the local club to win many points through non-entrance of other clubs. Few events were closely contested and athletes generally strung out at the finish. There was much trouble experienced in running off field events, especially in jumps. Pole vaulters sank into the mud up to their knees and broad jumpers were literally covered with mud when they sprang upon landing. Poage was the biggest winner for the local club. Twenty thousand persons witnessed the contests.

NEGRO SCARED TO DEATH.
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 10.—Charles Washington, a negro, who was buried yesterday, died, it is said by his friends, from fright caused by being before the grand jury an hour. Washington was a porter in a policy shop, and last fall when Attorney Folk was investigating these enterprises, Washington was summoned as a witness. Folk's questions and the treatment accorded him by the grand jurors, it is claimed, caused him to brood himself sick, from which he never recovered.

BLACK'S PERSONAL STAFF.
Chicago, Sept. 10.—Commander-in-Chief Black to day appointed his personal staff and issued his first general order in the form of fraternal greetings to the Grand Army. National headquarters will be in Memorial hall, Chicago. The following are names of members of the staff: Adjutant general, Charles A. Partridge, Illinois; quartermaster general, Charles Burrows, New Jersey; inspector general, Edwin B. Messer, Iowa; judge advocate general, James Tanner, New York.

TALKS OF OATHS

Omaha, Sept. 10.—Bishop Scannel, of the Omaha Catholic diocese, says a Catholic cannot belong to the Typographical union and receive absolution from a priest. The bishop said to night:

"No man could lawfully take an obligation of this kind, for keeping of it would render all government, ecclesiastical or civil, impossible. In fact, it would render null and void all courts of law, ecclesiastical or civil. It would make the authority of the voluntary organization paramount to all law, national, divine, ecclesiastical and civil."

The bishop says unless the obligation is changed Catholic members should leave the union. He argued that should a member of the Typographical union be called as a witness, where interests of the union were at stake, that, according to the obligation he had taken, he need not obey the injunction to tell the truth. Such state of affairs he pointed out would undermine all good government and work lasting harm to public policy and public morals.

KILLED HIS FATHER-IN-LAW

A TRAGEDY NEAR WATER- LOO, ILLINOIS

Motive for Murder Was Refusal of Victim to Increase Weekly
Allowance of His Worthless
Son-in-Law.

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—A special to the Post Dispatch from Waterloo, Ill., says: William A. Hoffman, a young farm hand living near Maystown, twelve miles southeast of Waterloo, called his father-in-law, Dr. William Brandt, to the door of his house last night and shot him dead with a shotgun. He then rode back home, told his wife he killed an old hound, her father, gave her two dollars, which he said he wanted her to spend on christening her four weeks old daughter, kissed her and four children and rode into the woods, but before leaving he said to his wife, "There are two men I must kill before I kill myself."

The sheriff and a large posse are searching for Hoffman and a hard fight is anticipated, as the fugitive is heavily armed and an unerring marksman.

It is supposed Hoffman's motive for killing his father-in-law was the old gentleman refused to increase his weekly allowance. Brandt was quite wealthy and had been practically supporting his son-in-law and family.

306 SOUTH MAIN ST

AT CAMP LINCOLN

Thursday was Governor's Day—
Blow Up Pontoon Bridge.

Springfield, Sept. 10.—At 3 o'clock to day the governor and staff arrived at Camp Lincoln, being met at the gate by two troops of cavalry and escorted to Colonel Young's headquarters. The review was held soon after arrival at camp. All the commands in camp participated in the review and the bands were also consolidated. One of the features of the afternoon was the blowing up of the pontoon bridge, which was built by the engineers. On one side of the bridge was stationed the artillery with two guns, which were attacked by the cavalry, and in the operations the bridge was blown up. The guests of Colonel Young and many others witnessed the maneuvers.

Among those who are visiting at camp to day are Gen. G. M. Moulton, commander of the first brigade, with staff; Col. A. L. Bournique, Maj. J. H. Barnett, Lieut. S. K. Martin, Jr., Col. Nicholas Senn, surgeon-general of the I. N. G. Gen. G. M. Moulton arrived at camp at 7:30 o'clock this morning and a military salute of thirteen guns was fired in his honor. General Moulton inspected the camp and found everything to be in excellent order.

The artillery were given battalion drill this morning for the first time. Troop D of the cavalry occupied the rifle range this morning, the other troops being put through squad drill.

The men of the rifle team were put through some stiff practice to day, being drilled in skirmish firing. Figures of men were used, the men firing at them in different positions, lying, kneeling and standing.

At camp to-morrow the men will have the usual drills, advance and rear guard work. The squadrons will have practice march.

The guests of Colonel Young assembled on the hills at the north of the camp to watch the maneuvers, after which they were entertained at dinner at post headquarters.

Parade was held to night at the usual hour, 5:30 o'clock.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The following appears in the last issue of the Shelbyville Times:

"Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Hilsabeek announce the engagement of their daughter, Florence Fernie, to Mr. Orlando Baxter, of Jacksonville, Ill. The marriage will take place in the early winter."—Windsor Gazette.

MURDERS HIS SWEETHEART.

Mexico, Mo., Sept. 10.—Crazed with jealousy, William Reynolds, a farmhand 4 years of age, shot and killed his sweet heart, Miss Ruby Kennett, 16 years old, at the home of the young woman, fifteen miles east of this city, at an early hour this morning. The murderer then turned the revolver on himself, falling dead within three feet of his victim.

Reynolds for a time lived at the Kennett home. Later he worked for a neighbor. Tuesday Miss Kennett came to this city to attend a circus with Albert Lehnen, a neighbor's son. They returned home about midnight, and the shooting occurred soon after. Reynolds having been invited by Mr. Kennett to spend the night there Reynolds entered Miss Kennett's room after she had retired and shot her as she lay in bed.

PLOT TO BLOW UP PRISON.

Huntsville, Tex., Sept. 10.—A plot on the part of convicts to blow up the state penitentiary here with dynamite has been discovered by the prison authorities. The leader was Arthur Hewitt, the convict who led the mutiny at the Leavenworth (Kan.) penitentiary a few years ago. He had arranged with a trusty to obtain a large supply of dynamite from an ex-convict on the outside. When the attempt to smuggle the explosive in was made the plot was discovered and all concerned were placed in close confinement. Hewitt is to be returned to Leavenworth to be tried for murder committed during his escape there.

An Unpleasant Assignment.

Miss Caroline L. Greisheim, a clerk in the civil service department at Washington, has had a unique duty cut out for her. She has been detailed to make a tour of inspection of the post offices of the country and interpret the civil service regulations. Miss Greisheim does not expect to have a warm reception, but this does not worry her, she says.

Few Safety Pins Sold in Europe.

A New York wholesale dealer in "notions" says there is one American invention that does not appeal to Europe. It is the safety pin. Although more than 150,000,000 safety pins are sold in this country every year, less than 2 per cent of that number are used in Europe. England is the only country where they have proved at all popular.

BRITISH WAR SCANDAL

Revelations in Report of Royal Commission.

NO PREPARATIONS FOR BOER WAR

Conflict Said to Have Been Begun Without Knowledge of Home or Hostile Forces—Colonel Lucas Declared That the Rifles Would Not Hit a Haystack—Boots of Brown Paper For Soldiers.

The New York Herald recently published the following from its correspondent in London:

Revelations contained in the report of the royal commission on the conduct of the war in South Africa have filled all England with consternation and indignation. From three volumes just issued much has been suppressed "in the public interest," but enough remains apparently to justify the opinion freely expressed that the war office, at the outbreak of the trouble was in a state of incompetency which is nothing short of amazing.

The testimony of General Nicholson shows that the intelligence section of the war office relating to South Africa, before the war was run with a force of only two officers and one clerk. The treasury, against the united recommendation of the war office, had refused any increase, and hence it was not surprising when England went to war that there was no effective map of the Orange Free State, the Transvaal or Natal. To quote General Kitchen's own testimony, according to official memoranda, the field intelligence department had to be created from the very beginning.

General Nicholson is responsible for the information that there was practically no valid connection between the intelligence department and the defense committee of the cabinet. The British local defense scheme was based on inadequate forces. It was merely that the generals reported how they could make the best of what troops they had. The experts prepared a plan of mobilization in the early summer, but the government would not vote the extra money until forced to do so. This was the testimony of General Sir F. Stopford.

From official memoranda and Colonel Altham's testimony it is apparent that Lansdowne, then war secretary, knew there were 48,000 mounted Boers who could oppose the British, yet almost without exception infantry was sent. When finally the mobilization of the First army corps was ordered it was so late that it was not possible for Sir Redvers Buller to be in a position to take the field until December. The Boers had invaded Natal the second week in October. Hasty mobilization on the part of the British then caused disorganization.

Nearly all the military witnesses, notably General Kelly-Kenny, put stress on the fact that the representations of the commander in chief did not meet sufficient compliance. Lord Wolseley emphasizes this and also the way Lord Lansdowne treated him and his advice in 1899, which was absolutely disregarded, refusing to sanction even the most urgently needed expenditure. The war secretary's refusal delayed the army corps. Nor did he send out the reinforcements urged. Lord Roberts also condemns the initial preparations in South Africa.

The volumes teem with the war officers' shortcomings. The British had no quick firing guns in South Africa. When the war started warnings from the Cape were neglected, mobilization was muddled, the war officers did not even know that pompon guns could be used for field purposes. It was not known here until the middle of October that the Boers were using any heavy guns in the field. There were so few pontoons in this country that old ones had to be sent out. Colonel Lucas declared that the sights of some of the rifles were so bad the soldiers could not hit a haystack with them.

Sir Fleetwood Wilson, financial adviser to Lord Kitchener, found serious avoidable waste of public money in the ordnance expenditures at Cape Town, due to insufficient preparations before hostilities and lack of forethought in demanding stores. There was no evidence to show that any steps were taken at the Cape before the war to obtain information as to the prevailing prices and local sources of supply. It was not until four days before hostilities began that any serious attempt was made to forecast probable requirements.

To what use provisions were sometimes put is thus related by Lieutenant Colonel Morgan: "We had large stocks at our base ports of tinned meat and biscuits. They became such a nuisance in this way that we had no storage for them. The food had to stand out in the open, and of course some of it went to the bad. Instead of insisting on one pound tins of meat, as was recommended by a committee sixteen years ago, the war office bought six pound tins. These being heavy, the men often threw them away."

According to Colonel Carr, the soldiers' boots were distinctly bad in 1900. They were of brown paper, at least not much better. Owing to the inability of the troops to obtain soap half the force in South Africa, Colonel Sir W. Richardson testified, became verminous.

Press comments censure Lord Lansdowne and others of the cabinet severely, and some call for his resignation.

An Orange Experiment.

A commercial agent of the Japanese government is in California to make an experiment of shipping California oranges to Japan.

WARN PENSIONERS

Bogus Agents Make False Claims to Extort Money.

To warn old soldiers and soldiers' widows against the frauds being perpetrated throughout the country, 70,000 special notices have been issued in points in Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska by E. T. Ware, commissioner at Washington, D. C.

Men claiming to be agents of the United States pension department have been in several Iowa cities and extorted money from pensioners by promising to secure an increase in their pensions, or where none is held to get them a pension. From some people they obtained $25 of $50, and promised the pension or extension would be forthcoming soon. But the pension or increase does not appear, and complaints are then made to the government. The United States officials have been after the swindlers for some time, but as yet have been unable to catch them. It is claimed the grafters jump from one large city to another.

In order to warn all against the fraudulent work, the government has determined to send out notices. Accordingly different pension agents have received notices that circulars will soon be received by them which they are to send to every pensioner on the books. The notices to be distributed read as follows:

"Any persons employed by the bureau of pensions are paid for their services by the government of the United States and are not entitled to collect any money from any individual for performance of their official duties."

"Any person who pretends to be an officer of the bureau and demands compensation for his alleged services in that behalf is an impostor and he should be turned over to an officer of the law."

"The object of this circular is to protect all persons having business with the bureau against the swindling schemers and unprincipled impostors, who falsely claim to be officers of the government having power to grant pensions, arrears and increases, and who will collect money from their victims."

SEIZURE OF ISLANDS.

London, Sept. 10.—The British foreign office is said to have made representations at Washington against the recent seizure of two or three islands off the northeast coast of British North Borneo by the United States gunboat Quies. These islands are not connected with those of the coast of Sandakan (capital of British North Borneo), over which the American flag was recently hoisted.

AFFAIRS AT BELGRADE.

Belgrade, Sept. 10.—A mob made a great demonstration last night against newspapers which defended army officers recently arrested. The crowd attempted to proceed to the Turkish legation, but was dispersed by police. Many persons were slightly injured.

DIED OF TUBERCULOSIS CANCER.

Rome, Sept. 10.—Professor Cardarelli, an eminent physician, who is a member of the senate, publishes in the Rivista D'Italia, to day a long article to demonstrate Pope Leo XIII. died of tuberculosis cancer. The statement concludes by saying: "Faithful to a higher pledge taken, waited forty days from the death of the pope, before making this publication."

FEET SWOLLEN TO IMMENSE SIZE.

"I had kidney trouble so bad that I could not work," says J. J. Cox, of Valley View, Ky. "My feet were swollen to immense size and I was confined to my bed and physicians were unable to give me any relief. My doctor finally prescribed Foley's Kidney Cure, which made a well man of me." A. J. Obermeyer, City drug store.

AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 10.—Miss Alice Roosevelt has arranged to make a dive in the submarine boat Moccasin to day. She will be the first woman to undergo such an experience.

It was expected that Miss Roosevelt would take a short cruise in the Moccasin yesterday, but she had so many engagements that she could not find time. The trip was postponed until to day. The Moccasin was successfully tested off here yesterday.

The suggestion that she make a trip in the diver came from the president's daughter herself.

With Miss Roosevelt aboard the Moccasin will be put through a series of maneuvers.

FOR A WORTHLESS CUR.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—When told that it would cost her $2.75 to secure the freedom of her dog, impounded in the city lot, Mrs. Mary Rowe burst into tears and began to untie her shoes offering them and $1.75, all the money she had, for her pet. This was refused, but the keeper promised to save the dog until Mrs. Rowe could get the money. Later she returned in a carriage and redeemed the dog, a mongrel of doubtful value.

Only $5.35 to Chicago and return via THE ALTON, Sept. 26, 27 and 28. Final limit Oct. 5. Account CHICAGO'S CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION. Six big days and something to see all the time. There will not be another for 100 years, so don't fail to attend this one.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Notions About the Candlestick, Whether For Use or Ornament.

The bedroom candle depends upon the style of its holder for becoming an interesting accessory to the smaller furnishings of the chamber. The tin candlesticks covered with enamel paint and the colored china are the least expensive for cottage rooms. Hand painted work may be introduced on fine white china candlesticks, with the same color and decorations employed in other parts of the room. Brass candlesticks always retain a high degree of popularity, antiques being carefully cherished and their reproductions almost as much thought of.

Silver candlesticks have a special fitness in the dining room among fine glass and china, the branching candelabra making a handsome part of the sideboard accoutrements. Tall candlesticks made of rich toned mahogany are also in place in the dining room, says an exchange, their wooden surface not exacting the constant rubbing and polishing of the metals.

Russian candlesticks of hammered brass that stand four and five feet from the floor are sometimes used for a piano light, or simply as an element of decoration in a dark corner.

Candlesticks are made in glass shapes in fine or coarse make, the cost agreeing with the degree of fineness of the material. These seem to have the right setting in rooms finished in white paint and dainty furnishings.

An Emergency Cupboard.

An emergency cupboard is an important possession for the household, particularly where there are children. It need not be very deep nor high, but it should contain two shelves and among other things the following: Soft old cotton, linen or cheese cloth cut in strips and rolled for use for bandages or plasters, strips of flannel, vaseline, adhesive plaster, cotton wool, borax, fine sponge, hot water bottle, roll of fine string, spool of cotton and a bottle containing equal portions of lime-water and sweet oil, the latter being an excellent mixture for burns.

The Refreshing Tomato.

The brilliant color of the tomato when quite ripe is very attractive, and when peeled and the succulent pulp chilled thoroughly, each tomato slashed partially through, in quarters, pressed partially open and set in cups of crisp, tender green lettuce leaves, served with a French dressing or mayonnaise, it brings rest, peace and refreshment to the victim of the overheated atmosphere and will cause him to rise up from such regale and call the man blessed who was brave enough to first experiment with the tomato as an edible.

Chestnut Custard Pie.

For a chestnut custard pie filling boil and wash a sufficient quantity of chestnuts to yield one-half pint of pulp. Add one pint of milk, the yolks of two eggs, a scant one-half cupful of sugar and one tablespoonful of vanilla. Turn into the paste lined dish and bake in a moderately quick oven for twenty minutes. For the meringue beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, add two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and spread over the top of the pie. Return to the oven and when a yellowish brown stand aside to become cold.

For Carpets.

Although there may be many new liquids for freshening and brightening carpets, nothing will do better work than ox gall, says an exchange. Use one gill to a gallon of cold soft water, stirring the ox gall into the water with a stick. With a soft brush rub the carpet, making a white lather. Two persons should do this work, one following the other and washing the lather off with clear water. The water should be changed often, and then the carpet should be rubbed with clean cloths until dry.

An Attractive Laundry Bag.

A laundry bag as attractive as it is practical has made its appearance on the market. It is of heavy Jacquard terry, white upon color, and has the word laundry woven in large script across the center. The draw string is of heavy white cord, with tasseled ends. This bag, which comes in pink, blue, red, green and yellow, enables the lover of harmony to have bath robe, mat and laundry bag to match.

Ventilate Your Room.

The difference between gas and oil lamps in the matter of vitiating the air of a room is significantly indicated in the fact that florists use lamps in the greenhouses, gas never. Too frequent emphasis can hardly be put upon the necessity of airing a room thoroughly that must be slept in after having been gas lighted throughout the evening—a precaution too often neglected.

OWES HIS LIFE TO A NEIGHBOR'S KINDNESS.

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhoea; was attended by two physicians, who gave him little, if any, relief, when a neighbor, learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours. For sale by all druggists.

DOCTORS COULD NOT HELP HER.

"I had kidney trouble for years," helton, Wash., "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much for Foley's Kidney Cure." J. A. Obermeyer, City drug store.

SURE CURE FOR PILES.

A NEW JERSEY EDITOR'S TESTIMONIAL.

M. T. Lynch, editor of the Philadelphia, N. J., Daily Post, writes: "I have used many kinds of medicines for coughs and colds in my family, but never anything so good as Foley's Honey and Tar. I cannot say too much in praise of it." J. A. Obermeyer, City drug store.

One of the most important requirements in a medicine to be given to small children should be that it is pleasant to take. Bad tasting medicines disturb the stomach, destroy the appetite and it is extremely difficult to get children to take them. The pleasant flavor of Re-Go Tonic Laxative Syrup, the certain cure for dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness, pleases the most sensitive persons and is the ideal laxative for young children. 25c, 50c and $1 bottles sold by Lee P. Allcott, druggist.

Daily Journal 10 cents a week.

HE CURED THE LITTLE GIRL.

Mr. Herman Muller, senior member of the firm of Muller & Leykom, extensive lumber and general merchants at Polar, Langdale Co., Wis., says: "My little girl was troubled with a bronchial cough and we tried several remedies without satisfactory results. We finally gave her a few doses of Harts' Honey and Horehound, which quickly cured her." Harts' Honey and Horehound is a never failing cure for all throat and lung troubles to which children are subject. It is very pleasant to take and the absence of any deleterious or dangerous drugs makes it especially valuable for small children. 25c, 50c and $1 bottles. Sold by Lee P. Allcott, druggist.

For a bilious attack take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and a quick cure is certain. For sale by all druggists.

A TEXAS WONDER.

READ THIS. Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 25, 1902.—Nearly three years ago, with a second attack of serious illness, I was surprised to learn that I had diabetes. Providentially I was led to present to me Doan's Kidney Pills, known as A TEXAS WONDER. Less than half of the $1 bottle effected a complete and permanent cure. Consequently I believe it to be a medicine of very great value. L. R. Kent, Evangelist.

SO SOOTHING

Its Influence Has Been Felt by so Many Jacksonville Readers.

The soothing influence of relief. After suffering from itching piles, from eczema or any itchininess of the skin. Makes one feel grateful to the remedy. Doan's Ointment has soothed hundreds. Here's what one Jacksonville citizen says.

Anthony Ward, of 103 North Main street, says: "For fifteen years I was troubled with a severe irritation on my body and nothing I employed brought good results until I procured Doan's Ointment at Dr. H. Lee Hatch's drug store and used it. The effect was prompt and in a short time the trouble was removed. I had also suffered from eczema on my forehead and although I treated it with physicians, they could do it no good. A few applications of Doan's Ointment entirely removed it. This reliable preparation is a true specific for skin diseases."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

NEW BATTLESHIP

Pennsylvania is to be Launched Saturday—Great Addition to War Fleet.

The armored cruiser Pennsylvania, launched on Saturday, is to be a war vessel with the fighting power of a battleship and the speed of a cruiser. Our largest battleship in commission, the Maine, has a displacement of 12,500 tons; the Oregon has a displacement of 10,288 tons; the Iowa, 11,340 tons, and the Kearsarge, 11,252 tons.

The Oregon has the speed of seventeen knots an hour, the Maine, eighteen; the Illinois, seventeen, and the Ohio, eighteen. The Pennsylvania is to have a displacement of 14,900 tons and a speed of twenty-two knots, the same as the Brooklyn, our largest and fastest armored cruiser in commission.

The necessity for such vessels as the Pennsylvania was demonstrated during the war with Spain. It had been contended before that, as we were not building battleships to run away from an enemy, a high speed was not important. In 1898 the need of the hour was for fast vessels to find the enemy. Actual war showed that the most efficient battleship was one like the Oregon, that could make a long voyage at good speed and at the end of the voyage be ready for battle.

Actual war showed, too, that we needed more cruisers like the Brooklyn, so that an enemy could be pursued by a squadron strong enough to give battle and at the same time fast enough to determine the time and place of battle.

Experience in war showed that the battleship most efficient in war was the one that had room not only for heavy guns, but for men to be used to best advantage; rooms for repair shops and coal, as well as for armament. Therefore, since the war of 1898 the tendency in our own navy has been toward larger battleships and larger cruisers.

Lord Brassey, writing of the British navy, calls for more battleships and fewer cruisers. This is on the theory that the strongest naval line of battle will be that formed of the strongest vessels, and that in the final issue victory will be on the side that has the most battleships.

The American idea, based on the experience of war, contemplates the forming of a naval line of battle quickly at a point to our advantage, and to the disadvantage of the enemy, and involves the whole question of choosing where to fight and when.

In settling such a question and in keeping an enemy away from our coast a fleet of armored cruisers like the Pennsylvania would play as conspicuous a part as battleships. Therefore, they are to be built as speedily as possible.

NEW BATTLESHIP

Pennsylvania is to be Launched Saturday—Great Addition to War Fleet.

The armored cruiser Pennsylvania, launched on Saturday, is to be a war vessel with the fighting power of a battleship and the speed of a cruiser. Our largest battleship in commission, the Maine, has a displacement of 12,500 tons; the Oregon has a displacement of 10,288 tons; the Iowa, 11,340 tons, and the Kearsarge, 11,252 tons.

The Oregon has the speed of seventeen knots an hour, the Maine, eighteen; the Illinois, seventeen, and the Ohio, eighteen. The Pennsylvania is to have a displacement of 14,900 tons and a speed of twenty-two knots, the same as the Brooklyn, our largest and fastest armored cruiser in commission.

The necessity for such vessels as the Pennsylvania was demonstrated during the war with Spain. It had been contended before that, as we were not building battleships to run away from an enemy, a high speed was not important. In 1898 the need of the hour was for fast vessels to find the enemy. Actual war showed that the most efficient battleship was one like the Oregon, that could make a long voyage at good speed and at the end of the voyage be ready for battle.

Actual war showed, too, that we needed more cruisers like the Brooklyn, so that an enemy could be pursued by a squadron strong enough to give battle and at the same time fast enough to determine the time and place of battle.

Experience in war showed that the battleship most efficient in war was the one that had room not only for heavy guns, but for men to be used to best advantage; rooms for repair shops and coal, as well as for armament. Therefore, since the war of 1898 the tendency in our own navy has been toward larger battleships and larger cruisers.

Lord Brassey, writing of the British navy, calls for more battleships and fewer cruisers. This is on the theory that the strongest naval line of battle will be that formed of the strongest vessels, and that in the final issue victory will be on the side that has the most battleships.

The American idea, based on the experience of war, contemplates the forming of a naval line of battle quickly at a point to our advantage, and to the disadvantage of the enemy, and involves the whole question of choosing where to fight and when.

In settling such a question and in keeping an enemy away from our coast a fleet of armored cruisers like the Pennsylvania would play as conspicuous a part as battleships. Therefore, they are to be built as speedily as possible.

The unexplored antarctic region, which equals Europe in size, is the largest unexplored area in the world.

The United States has 73,000 postoffices. Germany is next with 55,000 and Great Britain third with 22,400.

The Congo Free State has an area of 900,000 square miles and the population between 20,000,000 and 25,000,000.

The annual payment to pensioners of the war with Spain now approximates $2,700,000, and 45,000 applications are pending.

An average stick of wood used when green contains 33 per cent of water and loses 22 per cent of it in seasoning, during which process its strength is nearly doubled.

THE CUSTOMARY OATH.

There is no reason why the employees in the government printing office should be "thrown into consternation" by the order requiring them to take the oath which department clerks and other persons in the civil or military service have to take. It cannot be a dreadful matter for a man working in the government printing office in any capacity to swear that "to the best of my knowledge and ability I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office upon which I am to enter."

If there be a man in the employ of the government who is unwilling to take an obligation of that kind he should be removed instantly. Probably there is no one who will refuse to take it. If a man who has taken it is required to do something which goes against his conscience or principles, a door of escape is open to him. He can give up his place to some one with a less tender conscience or different principles. Subscribing to the oath does not bind a man to keep the place where he is made to do things he does not wish to do. No printing office employee enlists for a term of years like a soldier or sailor. He is free to go when he pleases.

If his employer—the government—bids him do something the rules of a union to which he belongs say he must not do, and he refuses to obey his employer, he will be discharged. If he leaves his work to go on what is called a strike he will be discharged for quitting his work. That is how a government acts in a case of that kind, whether the striker has or has not taken an oath of office. The administering of the oath to the printing office employees does not change the situation in the least. As they belong to the classified service, it is only proper that they should take it, like other employees.

ILLINOIS EDITORS' OPINIONS.

McKinham Republican: The early entry of Governor Yates into the race for the Republican nomination for governor is not a surprise nor does it establish a precedent. It is part of the unwritten law of the land for public servants to look for the popular endorsement of their stewardships. And in this instance where a constant and bitter war had been waged by the Chicago trust press and the round robins against Yates and the state administration it is easily understood by those who know Yates why he is seeking re-nomination. He is not the coward of the weakling he has been characterized by his enemies.

Governor Yates' friends announce that the governor will make an open fight for the nomination. In fact, it is understood that he is going direct to the people, that he will visit every county in the state and send out literature regarding the charges made against the state administration by the trust press. The natural spirit of fair play which is inherent in the American citizen will certainly concede him a hearing. If he fails to convince the people that he has been faithful to his trust, then he loses his case. His right to vindicate himself is unquestioned and there should be no unfavorable criticism of his action.

In taking his case to the people Governor Yates is showing his sincerity. He evidently regards his candidacy as an opportunity for the people to vindicate the administration of the trust press, and he proposes to give them the opportunity.

AGAIN THE CHICAGO PAPERS.

Londonville Republican: If the Chicago papers, who appear to be blind as bats to party sentiment down the state, can thus treat their party, bitter, personal fight on Governor Yates, the governor may win sympathy. Stranger things have happened, and the governor's best hope, in our opinion, is that they keep up the fight.

WILL MEET WITH ENCOURAGEMENT.

Metropolis Journal-Republican: The announcement comes from apparently reliable sources that Governor Yates is not to receive the support of the leading organization leaders of the state in his campaign for re-election, if he decides to become a candidate, and that he will go before the people in a canvass of every county in the state regardless of the opposition. And he will no doubt meet with much encouragement in such a campaign.

A LIVE LEADER.

Harrisburg Herald: Says the Quincy Review: "No man in Illinois ever before has such an opportunity to become a great leader as Richard Yates." And very well has he made use of the opportunity. "It is only the few sighted politicians who fail to regard his good works; those whose hopes are blasted who are seeking to drag him down in the estimation of the public. This 'dragging' will not work, as it has not, and Richard Yates remains the same in truth, honor and integrity, the same stalwart representative of his party and people, that he has always been. Truth is mighty and will win every time. Richard Yates will be re-elected governor of the state of Illinois with renewed unanimity. He will lead his party as he has done before—as did his grand old father before him.

He has, indeed, been proclaimed a leader, and has reached that point in his line of march where vilifying and blackguardism cannot touch his garments; the cowardly attacks are brainless efforts. They come from diseased craniums. They come from the direction where grows that harmless growth, mildewed and forsaken.

Richard Yates stands on a firm foundation—his character cannot be shaken, and the people of Illinois know the man.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

Parents and Guardians Must Educate Children.

The compulsory education act has been amended to read, "that every person having control of any child between the ages of 7 and 14 years shall cause the child to attend some public or private school during the entire time the school is in session, not less than 110 days a year of actual teaching. The law is not to apply to any case where the child has been or is being otherwise instructed for a like period. For every neglect on the part of a parent or guardian the person offending shall forfeit to the use of the public schools not less than $5, nor more than $20, as the costs of the suit.

Philadelphia's Literary Tastes.

"I have come to the conclusion that most people who talk learnedly of the classics are frauds," said the bookish young woman. "Take Boswell's 'Life of Johnson,' for instance. I have good reason to believe that the work is never read and that the people who have a smattering of it get their knowledge at second hand and then make a bluff at knowing all about the most famous biography in English literature. Before I arrived at this conclusion I was rather ashamed of myself for never having read it, and the other day when I was in the Mercantile library I asked for it. After a long wait the volume was forthcoming, covered with dust. 'It doesn't look as though there was much demand for Boswell,' I said. 'No,' replied the attendant, 'that is the first time in thirty years that the book has been out of the library.'"

VETERANS MEET.

In Annual Reunion Near Arcadia and Have a Good Time.

For some time the veterans in the vicinity of Arcadia have been looking forward to their annual reunion when the old boys meet and touch elbows along with their friends and relatives of the past and present generations. Thursday was the day set aside this year for the gathering and it came near being spoiled by the clerk of the weather, who had the day begin so inauspiciously that a great many were kept away. A heavy rain the night before made the roads sloppy and hard and the lowering skies of the day itself failed to clear until nearly noon, when finally the sun put in a welcome appearance and a goodly number gathered at the place appointed in Uncle Jack Henderson's grove, where a stand had been erected and all preparations made for the occasion. Comrade L. A. Barr had matters in hand, though it was well into the afternoon before the exercises began. The drum corps made excellent martial music and received many well deserved compliments.

Another pleasant feature on the program was the graphophone loaned by Charles Price and manipulated skillfully by Alfred Ewert, of this city. A good many pieces were given by it and it was a source of much satisfaction.

The first speaker on the program was Rev. H. G. Vandervoort, of Clayton, himself a veteran and a fine orator. A few extracts of his excellent address are given:

"Comrades, ladies and gentlemen: It gives me great pleasure to be with you to day and to meet those with whom we have stood side by side in the hour of trial. When we gather to talk of the past, the present and the future there are those who say we tell too many stories; that our memories improve each year; but I tell you all I am going to be like the preacher who was given to exaggeration in the pulpit sometimes, especially when he came to telling the story of the foxes caught by Sampson and turned loose in to the fields of the Philistines. It was finally agreed that his family should give a signal if he made another such mistake, so when he began as usual his wife gave a low whistle, and he dropped a hundred and went on a bit; when his daughter whistled quietly and he dropped another hundred; but this wasn't enough, so his boy gave a whistle, whereupon the old man shouted:

"You may whistle all you please; I shan't drop another fox."

"So I tell you here to day; you may whistle all you please; we old fellows are going to have our say."

"You who have not been in the service can have little idea of army life; what fun we had you little know; marching all day, often in mud and rain, lying down at night in wet clothes, often cold and hungry; frequently with the enemy in close proximity, and we not daring to make fires or do much else to make us comfortable. The battles, the sufferings of the sick and wounded and the thousand and one things all go to make up the total of a soldier's life, but when we think of what was accomplished our hearts swell with honest pride. This is the greatest country and government the world ever saw. When I was at the world's fair I was proud to be an American citizen. I read the story of three men—an American, an Englishman and a Frenchman—and toasts were proposed to their respective countries. The Englishman proposed to England, the sun of the universe shedding its rays over all mankind. The Frenchman proposed to France, the sweet moon, second only to the sun in influence and power. But the American proposed to George Washington, the Joshua who commanded the sun and moon to stand still, and they obeyed him."

"I have no fears for the future of our beloved land. In the late war with Spain men from the north and south; the east and west, stood side by side, fought shoulder to shoulder animated by one purpose—the glory of their native or adopted land. You, comrades, left succeeding generations a grand and glorious legacy and posterity will award you a due meed of honor. There is something of peculiar power in the fellowship engendered by army life. When veterans take each other by the hand there is a feeling that creeps up the arm and gets to the heart and warms it in a peculiar manner. It reminds one of the time when shot and shell were flying and when men stood side by side in a rain of death. In Bloomington there was years ago a gathering of the old people whom they called 'snow birds,' because they lived there before the deep snow. How they used to love to get together and recall the days of long ago when they lived in their humble, primitive manner. I have seen railroad men assemble and talk of their mutual experiences and cultivate the friendly ties that existed between them. And so we who marched side by side have a fellowship which can never die. In earlier days a Fourth of July was never properly celebrated, or any other great occasion, unless they had in a prominent place a soldier of the revolution, and when these had all gone a faded uniform and an old gun took the place of the men who used them. The time is fast coming when we shall all be mustered out and answer the last roll call, and history will repeat itself, and we shall be remembered by what we have done."

"At the battle of Lookout mountain the union forces were ordered to take the rifle pits at the foot of the eminence, but the boys were not satisfied with that, so bluff old General Wood told them to take the heights also and added that if they failed he would have them court martialed, and with cheers for their brave general they double-quickened up the mountain and took the fortifications on top and held them, and that without orders from the major general in command."

"When we enlisted we used to talk so much of the small task before us. We spoke of whipping the Confederacy as a before breakfast task. Much as I like warm biscuit and honey, I should hate to be obliged to wait for my breakfast as long as it took us to do up the rebellion. Instead of a little job like that we got the whole thing. It makes me think of the story of the Jew with a smart son. A customer came into the store and displayed a five dollar gold piece and the young Israelite picked it up and swallowed it. The owner was much incensed and demanded his money back, and the merchant told him he would do his best to get it for him. He went back next morning for it and the Jew told him he had given the lad the strongest emetic he could find, but he would only give up $3.75, which he was pleased to hand over. We were not that way; we got the whole thing and something to spare."

"I am glad to meet my comrades on such occasions and renew the ties so dear. They call us back numbers sometimes and a good many don't care much for us old fellows, but we are dear to each other. An earnest preacher was once discoursing on an ever watchful Providence and remarked to his congregation that the very hairs of their heads were numbered, which prompted a bald headed brother to remark that he would like to have some of the back numbers he lost some years ago. I tell you, if we are back numbers, some people think a great deal of us."

I tell you, if we are back numbers, some people think a great deal of us."

"When men stood side by side in the awful carnage of Gettysburg and saw comrade after comrade fall ties which can never die were then made. There are those who are prejudiced against the old soldiers. There was once an old woman who used to call them coffee coolers and declare she had no use for them for they were of little account, but when she attended a reunion and saw the cordial greetings and heard the reminiscences she replied, when asked what she thought of them then, that they were the most loving devils she ever saw. I agree with her as to the loving part, but disclaim the devil business entirely."

"We had our humorous adventures as well as our hardships. Don't you remember the dilapidated old horse; the mules so noisy we had to tie stones to their tails to keep them quiet, so we could sleep? Once we had a chaplain who had a poor excuse of a horse to carry him and when he reached a pond the poor old creature stumbled and tipped his rider into the water. Some of the boys remarked that it was too bad, but a young Irishman suggested that they ought to commend the old horse for spreading the gospel over that pond."

"Many of the world's greatest inventions have been put forth since the days of our service. Our arms have been much improved since we handled them. The soldiers of to day don't load in nine times. Our muskets used to kick as much behind as before. Eli Perkins had a cannon which weighed twenty-seven tons, with a ball that weighed thirty-six tons, and when they asked him how such a gun could do any shooting he replied that the gun went while the ball stayed where it was."

"Our school teachers should do much to inculcate patriotism. If I were a county superintendent I would not give one of them a certificate unless she could pass an examination in patriotic literature, and I would have them sing national airs in school and do all they could to teach the young their duties to their native land. During the war how often it was said there would be trouble when the great number of boys in blue were tured loose on the country, but there was no difficulty at all; we went home and went to work just the same as others did. It is said we stole chickens and razor back hogs, but I tell you it is a vile slander, for we didn't do it. Of course if a rooster wouldn't crow for the union, or a hog wouldn't grunt for Lincoln he had to be dealt with."

"I never could understand one thing, and that was regarding our washing. We would wash out our shirts and socks in cold water and the former would shrink so that they would hardly go down over our necks, while the socks would expand so we could pull them down over our heads. I rejoice that so many are yet alive, but the conflict for those who remain will soon be over; we shall hear the taps before long, and I pray that we may stand side by side on the tented fields of the better land."

Comrade Jones, of Mason county, told many things such as can only be related by a veteran. He was a cavalryman and did his share of skirmishing for something to eat, and also said that the old soldiers had the pick of the girls when they came home, and like the rest, he got one of the loveliest and she was lovely yet. The drum corps played "Marching Through Georgia," and then Comrade F. M. Court, of this city, spoke quite

CHARITY CONFERENCE

State Meeting Will be Held in Quincy in October.

The state conference of charities will be held in Quincy, Oct. 29 to 32. The citizens of Quincy have appointed committees to take charge of the arrangements for the coming meeting, which promises to be the largest ever held. The program is now being prepared by the state board of charities, and will, it is expected, soon be ready for distribution. The various sessions of the conference will be held at the Vermont Street M. E. church, where such distinguished persons as Judge Tuley, of Chicago, and Bishop Fallows will be heard. The program will also include addresses by prominent men from Ohio, Indiana and New York, as well as by persons prominent in the work in this state.

The five members of the state board, including President James, of Springfield, will be in Quincy. From 200 to 500 delegates from every section of the state are expected.

The members of the reception committee selected follow:
 Dr. Abby Fox Rooney, chairman; Mesdames J. W. Emery, W. S. Flack, E. J. Parker, E. F. Bradford, E. K. Stone, George H. Wilson, S. B. Montgomery, E. M. Slingan, Chauncey Castle, William Somerville, J. Stern, H. H. Charles, Eleanor Tobie, Louise Maertz and Mary Anderson.

OPPOSES PLAN

The idea advanced at the Decatur Labor day celebration of forming a circuit of the cities of Bloomington, Jacksonville, Decatur, Peoria and Springfield, for the purpose of holding a joint labor day celebration, each city to be host once every five years and the others to join in, is not very well received by the labor leaders of Bloomington. One main objection by the Bloomington leaders is that their town is not big enough to handle the crowds. In speaking of the proposed plan Mr. John B. Lennan, one of the most prominent labor men in Bloomington, said:

"I believe that each city should hold its own labor celebration, unless in cases of emergency, when it might be more expedient for them to join in the celebration somewhere else. Such times when the show of strength on the part of the unions as regards to numbers would carry weight into the deciding of some municipal affairs, then it might do for several cities to join together; but, unless such causes exist, it would be better for the local unions to celebrate at home. There is absolutely no benefit to be derived from these out-of-town affairs. And, again, such a plan as suggested at Decatur would be entirely out of the question. In Springfield last Monday we had an attendance of at least 5,000, and that from simply this city, Lincoln and Springfield. What would be the size of the crowd where five towns proposed to send here a full delegation of their local unions. Bloomington never in the world could accommodate the number. We have no place in which we could entertain them, the only place in town where there is an amphitheater being at the ball grounds, and that is not a desirable place. As a substitute for the proposed plan, say McLean and some adjoining county, unite for this purpose. There would be no danger then of undertaking more than we could handle."

acceptably. Among other things he said: "I like to meet with the boys on such occasions as these, though when I hear such eloquent speeches as those to which we have listened, I feel like the man who said he was only like the 'chinking' in the log cabin, but without that we should be very cold if we lived in one. I took dinner to day with my friend Jack Smith and we were well served too. He was in the southern army, but we could shake hands and be friends just the same. An old soldier should be a true man just the same as anybody else, and if he is a rascal he is just as mean. A man is judged by what he is. Many soldiers are dying and it is too hard now to get fair play for those who are left. It is difficult to get an increase of pension for the laws are too cast iron in their construction. I was not an officer but a humble private and I enlisted solely that the glorious stars and stripes might be preserved (cheers). In our company there were plenty of men just as able to command as the one in charge and he was all right. Let the result be what it may with me; I must be true to duty in state and nation. The country cannot be destroyed; it will only go so far and then the people will arise and remedy the existing evils. No man is so important that his place cannot be filled when he dies. When Lincoln was killed we wondered what would become of the country, but it survived."

A southerner said they were told that the northern soldiers were so ignorant they didn't know which end of the gun to shoot from, but he added that the Yankees learned — fast. A southern lady had an idea that northern soldiers were really wild animals, terrible to see even, and she was actually afraid to look at them until seven of them were marched by her house prisoners of war and she was surprised to see that they were as good looking as any men in the south. At a confederate reunion a speaker began berating the northern army when General Gordon stopped him, remarking that that was not the occasion for such language. So now there should be one country and one flag and we should stand together in its defense.

James H. Danksin, of this city, came next, but only a short outline of his acceptable address is possible.

I regret that I cannot address the veterans as comrades, but the fact is I was not born until 1859, but my father served his country in the army and I didn't know him until after the war. A man once gave as a reason for denouncing the government got a large revenue from whiskey and it was — mean man that wouldn't stand by his country. Very few are now prejudiced against the old soldiers. Many were dead on the field and the rest came back more or less incapacitated; they gave the best of their lives to their country and deserve all honor. Every year the veterans are teaching lessons in patriotism. Had the south succeeded there would have been two countries and they would have been so busy watching each other that they could not have attained any degree of greatness. It is said that it is hard to get a pension or an increase, yet the country is spending $138,000,000 annually redeeming the pledge that Lincoln made to the men who enlisted that their loved ones would be cared for by a grateful land. I like the anecdotes of the veterans. It keeps alive the fires of patriotism. The children of to day should be proud that their fathers or grandfathers were soldiers in the great war. Obedience to law was the one great truth for which the union army fought and that should be the lesson we teach to day above all others. I hope you will yet be spared for many years and may your last days be your best.

Captain Wright, of this city, then led the audience in "Marching Through Georgia" and shook hands with the veterans on the platform.

A competitive drill in the manual of arms was then conducted by Captain Wright and the first prize was awarded Comrade L. A. Barr.

Several of the comrades then were called on for stories. L. A. Barr told a good one; others spoke and the prize was awarded to J. E. Beckum, now of Kansas.

Another piece by the graphophone was followed by the forty yards dash, which was won by Comrade J. Johnson and the regular program of the day was at an end.

Great credit is due the management for the success of the day under such adverse circumstances. The audience behaved quite well, though some might have paid a little better attention to the speakers.

Among the veterans present were:

John D. Raymond, B. 101st Illinois infantry.

John B. Stewart, B. 101st Illinois infantry.

WHO KNOWS WHO SHE IS?

Do you know there is a beautiful Jacksonville girl, with whom many of you have gone to school and who has made the hearts of scores of our boys go pit-a-pat, who is coming back here as one of the foremost ingenue actresses of America? She plays the part of Isadora de Oro in the coming production, "A Royal Slave." She is to day recognized as one of the foremost artists on the stage in her special line of charming emotional work, and while possessing the charms of youth and beauty, that shows what real dramatic genius can achieve. We will not tell her name; can you guess it? But be sure and go to see her for yourself when "A Royal Slave" plays here. You all know her by sight, if you should fail to recognize her name. At the Grand, Saturday matinee and night.

HORSE STOLEN.

Joseph Bergschneider, who resides one mile north of Franklin, had a fine gray horse disappear from his barn Wednesday night and as yet no trace of it can be found. It is thought the horse was stolen, as the barn door was opened and the horse taken out of the barn. Mr. Bergschneider has been away several days, having gone with a consignment of cattle to the Chicago market. Every effort is being made to apprehend the thief.

ALL DAY PICNIC

Citizens of Arendville and Mercedosia Enjoyed a Big Event.

Despite the threatening weather, the all day basket picnic and fish fry held under the auspices of Mercedosia and Arendville in Brookhouse's grove was a grand success and nearly 1,000 people were present. The general committee in charge consisted of Henry Goebel and W. T. Hedenberg, and the fish fry committee was composed of A. M. Waldo, W. N. Hawk, Thomas Burrus and others.

The Mercedosia and Arendville bands furnished music during the day and while both organizations played well the Mercedosia musicians elicited the most favorable commendation by their fine work.

The speaking began at 2 o'clock and State's Attorney T. F. Smith and Thomas Burrus made stirring addresses along lines in keeping with the spirit of the occasion.

There was a blue rock shooting contest held after the speaking and a ball game between teams from Mercedosia and Arendville completed the day's program. The ball game was won by Mercedosia by the score of 26 to 15.

Great credit is due the committees for their efficient work and the occasion was indeed a red letter day between the two towns of Cass and Morgan counties.

THE DEATH RECORD.

MITCHELL.

Mrs. William Mitchell died of consumption at her home in Virginia. She was 45 years old. She is survived by her husband, who is engineer for the Virginia Electric Light company; and three daughters, Mrs. Chas. Tendick, who lives near this city, and Louise and Florence, residing at home.

BRACEWELL.

Charles I. Bracewell, of Murrayville died very suddenly Thursday morning from heart disease. The deceased seemed to be in his usual state of health Wednesday night when he retired, but about 6 o'clock Thursday morning his wife heard him gasping and moaning. Mrs. Bracewell summoned Dr. Vertrees, but before his arrival death had claimed Mr. Bracewell. Coroner Reynolds was notified and went to Murrayville to hold an inquest. After the examination of several witnesses the following verdict was returned: "We, the jury, find that he came to his death from valvular disease of the heart." The jury consisted of Dr. J. H. Spencer, foreman; W. R. T. Masters, clerk; Thos. Crouse, H. M. Wyatt, R. D. Kimbey and C. A. Boruff.

The deceased was 29 years of age and had lived in Murrayville a number of years, engaging in the business of stock dealer. He was well thought of by all who knew him.

FUNERALS.

BAPTISTE.

The funeral of Goldie Baptiste was conducted from the residence of Joaquin DeFrates on Voorhees street Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. R. F. Thrapp, assisted by Rev. R. F. Cressey. The funeral was largely attended and the many flowers made brighter the gloom and sadness in the home. The flowers were in charge of Mabel Smith and Edith Vasconcellos. The pall bearers were four little girls: Lula Palmer, Ethel Vasconcellos, Jsie Vasconcellos and Lillie DeFrates.

Little Goldie Marie Baptiste, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Baptiste, who was born May 3, 1893, in Springfield and was suddenly taken away Thursday, Sept. 8, was of a very loving and cheerful disposition and greatly loved by all who knew her. Her parents have the heartfelt sympathy of a wide circle of friends. She was a favorite among the old as well as the young, and her death has made a sad vacancy in the home circle.

We had a little treasure once; She was our joy and pride; We loved her; ah! perhaps too well, For soon she slept and died; All is dark within our dwelling; Lonely are our hearts to day, For the darling we loved so dearly, Has forever passed away.

INJURED BY FALL.

Mr. John M. Frampton, of Pittsfield, father of the groom and who came here to attend the Kirby-Frampton wedding, had the misfortune to fall Thursday afternoon and severely injured his hip and back. The accident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Robinson on South Diamond street, where Mr. and Mrs. Frampton were guests, and at first it was thought that Mr. Frampton had suffered a dislocation of his hip, but later developments proved that only a severe strain had taken place. He was unable to be present at the wedding last evening and will be bedridden for several days.

THE ANTIOCH FRY

Hundreds of People Attended
This Successful Annual Event.

The annual chicken fry at Antioch church, seven miles east of the city, was held Thursday evening and the excellent condition of the roads found many people ready to drive out for supper. A large tent had been provided and was placed just east of the church. Long before 4 o'clock, which was the hour set for supper to begin, there were many people waiting, but the efficient committee had everything well in hand and the hungry people were waited upon with great despatch. The tent held about 100 people and it was filled many times during the evening. William Cleary had charge of the chicken frying and he was ably assisted by L. V. Trotter, T. C. G. Taylor and J. R. Baxter. When they arrange to give a chicken fry at Antioch they always figure to provide for all and consequently 300 chickens were brought to the slaughter and everybody got some chicken, as well as many other good things. The coffee was made by Mrs. A. J. Harris, who is a known expert in this line.

The tickets were left in charge of A. C. Rice and H. G. Culley. Ice cream was served in a separate tent and those in charge were Miss Emma Rice, Mrs. C. E. French, Miss Pearl West and J. R. Baxter. This was one of the most successful fries ever given by the Antioch church people and much credit is due the general committee, Mrs. A. J. Harris, Mrs. Chas. Mathews and Mrs. Marcus Hulet, for the success of the event.

SEEBERGER @ BRO.

Fresh Polishes of all Kinds.

A great many well dressed people overlook the condition of their shoes when only a touch of polish would add materially to their appearance. Use our polishes and your footwear will wear longer and always look right.

A Good Shoe

can always be obtained by using our polishes. We carry nothing but the best prepared ones. If you want the best shine procurable, insist on getting Whittemore's polishes. They have no peer, put up for all leather and in all sizes at the same price as cheaper preparations.

All Men's Low Cuts = only $3.00
